

UNCHARITABLE CRITICISM.

Rev. E. W. VanDeventer has printed a pamphlet showing the work of the last Nevada Methodist conference in Carson. In this is his sermon before the Conference, which contains some very sweeping language; language as sweeping as it is untruthful. Speaking of Nevada he says:

"Renegades from crime, mean, dastardly and villainous, from all parts of the world, playing the role of preacher or fiddler, beggar or millionaire, painted prostitute or saintly housewife, professing great sanctity today, tomorrow vulgar, infidel, anything to escape detection and elude the grip of the law, the popularity and aristocracy of the liquor-drinking habits of fully nine tenths of the people, men, women and children in the cradle to high State officials, soaked, burnt out and burnt down, legalized gambling and prostitution in the most vile and degraded forms, the effrontery and social equality of the worst elements in society, the lax and even criminal views professed and practiced relative to the marriage relation, a great number of low, ignorant and truckling newspaper men, the sordid politics, conscienceless politicians who would sell out the honor of the State to enrich themselves, vast numbers who have been decently religious before coming here but who soon after their arrival laid aside their religion or whatever they had which they called religion and rushed headlong into sin (for it is well known to the workers on this field that there are more backsliders in the Nevada Mission according to population than anywhere else outside of perdition), so-called religious clans that live on the lowest plane of a professional religious life, (consequently religious bigots, make-shots, fanatics, peddlers and tramps, with all of their waspish antagonism and vacillating influence, must be encountered at nearly every turn in religious work), frauds, shams and collapsed religiousists have filled the country with their ghostly deeds and left their stenched memorials in nearly every community."

The above is a fair sample of several pages of denunciation mostly in the same strain. If the Reverend gentleman had considered his position a little he would turn from such wholesale denunciations of nine tenths of our population.

Like many other misguided people, Rev. VanDeventer came to Nevada to reform the State in about a week, and he is now abusing those who do not coincide with his way of thinking. This is not the way to reform people. When he denounces people as outcasts, who drink wine, play cards and dance, he is making himself utterly ridiculous. Lots of people will get to heaven who do not join in the VanDeventer way of looking at things.

A license to preach does not give anyone a license to libel.

While the wedding bells were sounding for Young Blaine and his $3,000,000 bride at Richfield Springs the discarded wife of the bridegroom was being packed through the streets of New York in an ambulance wagon, broken in heart, health and pocket because her husband basely deserted her before her child was born. Society was out in large force, but the ordinary run of people who still cling to the good old fashion idea that a man ought to stick to his wife do not figure out that Miss McCormick did much for herself when she married. President Harrison may be ranked with the people of old fashioned ideas, as he sent no bride gift to the wedding.

The Board of Agriculture has invited F. G. Newlands to deliver the annual address at the Pavilion next Friday evening. This was just the way Stewart started to run for the Senate.

The sugar trust has gone to join the hosted copper syndicate, and you can now put three spoons full in your tea.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, short-weight, adulterated powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 116 W. 4th Street, New York. 221
